

District Council Convenes to Address Bylaws

The newly recognized District Council, formerly Executive Council, met at Cannon Beach, Oregon, September 21-22 to work through the first draft of the new bylaws. An additional meeting will be held this month to complete this benchmark. They report that Regional meetings will be scheduled soon to explain the bylaw changes and policies.

Proposals for transitional bylaws were presented to the General Council at the Spring Celebration in May of this year, pending the approval of the Governance Policy Structure. According to Linda Tucker Bays, Chair of the Ministerial Fellowship and participant on the Discernment Team, the goal is streamlining and making a smaller decision-making team. The key is to create flexibility, life expectancy, and complete assignments.

Existing bylaws were modified to replace General Council with Executive Committee. With the transitional provision, the Executive Committee becomes the decision-making body for the Association, including all administrative and budgeting responsibilities previously assigned to the General Council.

Activities such as nominations and assignment of commission members were frozen, except at the discretion of the Executive Committee during the transitional time until new bylaws are approved.

The transitional bylaws will stay in effect until:

- a) 2/3 of the clusters (regions) have chosen representatives to the new leadership team.
- b) A set of bylaws that matches the new structure has been written and approved.
- b) Training is held in each structure outlining the function and format of the new structure and bylaws.

Pray for the District Council as they continue to work on structural and "big picture" issues. Watch for more information in the next issue of The CONTACT.

Good Times: CWC Prayer Retreat

Camp White Branch, near McKenzie Pass, Oregon, seemed to be the perfect setting once again for the September 2014 Christian Women Connection (CWC) Prayer Retreat, where “Passion” was the theme.

Over a dozen first-timers attended this year, with reports of a wonderful experience. Carolyn Grice, of Rainier, Oregon, was the speaker for the event, and focused on Psalm 42-2a, “My soul thirsts for God, the Living God.” Consider Elijah and Corrie Ten Boom, their love for God and His help through difficulties.

Nancy Kernutt summed it up with “Carolyn is an awesome speaker” and “Just saying it was fun!”

Marva Adams, of Aloha, led worship throughout the weekend.

Attendee Margaret Carr posts on Facebook, “I trekked cross country from the White Branch Falls to Pain Hill (sledding slope), mostly by hanging onto roots, ferns, rocks, etc.”.

A traditional side trip to nearby Belknap Hot Springs has been an enjoyable time for many women as part of the retreat experience.

Kudos to our Christian Women Connection district officers and all who worked together to make the 2014 retreat a memorable and meaningful time.

Senior Moments

by Ruth Bissett, Salem, OR

In continuing the subject of the biblical truth of suffering Ellie-Pearson Sutter reflected on its power to shape us into Christ's image and a new sense of knowing and experiencing Earl's words of "God Will See You Through"

Amy Carmichael, who was a missionary to India and founder of orphanages especially for girls abandoned and abused, emphasis the biblical truth of suffering in this quote: "As I read the New Testament over and over, I am more and more impressed by the way suffering was taken for granted as something appointed; but always there is the thought of joy not far off. In our Lord's private talks with His disciples there is continually and clearly that "Must" of suffering and the joy to follow."

Paul writes in Ephesians that he counts everything in his life as loss and rubbish, but to know Christ and the power of His resurrection and the fellowship of sharing His sufferings, becoming like Him in His death." Phil. 3:10

Timothy writes in 2 Tim 2:12, "Here is a trustworthy saying: "If we suffer with Him, we will also reign with Him."

--We really don't like to hear the word suffering. None of us wants or likes to suffer. I believe that God looks at suffering totally different that we do. Ellie shared one of her favorite verses as Phil 1:29, "God gave you the honor not only of believing in Christ, but also SUFFERING FOR HIM, both of which bring glory to Christ." Obviously not all of our suffering is suffering for Christ! But all of our suffering can be used to, "conform us in His image" depending on how we respond to it.

The key to this part of Ellie's lesson for us is that suffering is used by God to CONFORM US TO HIS IMAGE. Keep that in mind when the bumps and challenges in life come your way.

Next time I will share the ways to be conformed through suffering. Remember in whatever you are going through, GOD WILL SEE YOU THROUGH.

Missions Notes

From the Langfords

We are grateful for your continued prayers and encouragement during this period of fundraising. In moments when it felt like 100% funding was so far away you encouraged us. It has taken two long years to raise our full support, however, we have been able to meet so many amazing people across the country. During this time we have heard stories of great faith, listened to teenagers voice their struggles and joys, and we have been humbled to break bread with many of you.

The day we have been working towards is finally upon us and your prayers go with us. On October 27th, Audrey and I will be flying to Manchester, England by way of Atlanta and London. Our work Visas have been approved and tickets have been purchased. Please continue to pray for us as we sell many of our belongings, move out of our apartment, say goodbye to friends & family, and transition into full-time ministry. In little over a month we will be sending updates from Birkenhead, England and other parts of Europe and the Middle East.

If you would like to learn more and receive day to day updates please follow us on Facebook and Twitter or follow our blog for weekly updates.

Thank you again for all you do to encourage those sharing Jesus Christ around the world.

Ecuador Mission Effort

River Street Church of God in Newberg, OR, hopes to build a safe and usable building for the Christian Covenant Church of Sua, Ecuador, according to Pastor Matt Ingalls.

March 19-29 are the target dates. A team plans to fly from Portland to Quito, then drive on to Santo Domingo and on to Sua. Construction and VBS will take place March 22-25, followed by some exploration of the Ecuadorian Coast before their return home.

"The church is in need of a building for their ministry," says Ingalls. "They currently worship and minister under a tin roof." With a thriving children's ministry in an impoverished town on Ecuador's coast, Christian Covenant Church could use the help.

"Our group will raise funds for the project, interact with the church, the children they minister to, help begin the building project, and explore the culture of Ecuador."

A $300 deposit was due June 15, but it's not too late to participate. The team is to have $1300 per person by November 1st, so tickets can be secured. A total of $1800 is estimated as cost per person, with $500 going toward the building project and $1300 for airfare. Meal costs are not included in the total.

The team's trip verse is I Chronicles 28:10, "Consider now, for the LORD has chosen you to build a house for the sanctuary; be courageous and act." For more information, email pastor.mattingalls@gmail.com or call 503-538-4117.
