Speaker and Worship Leader

Danette Beisley grew up in the Church of God, accepting Jesus as her Lord and Savior at the age of 8. A thirst to know and serve Jesus better drew her to attend Warner Pacific College where she earned an Elementary Education degree in 1987, and married Doug in 1988. They have served together in many churches. God's calling drew them and their three children to New Zealand where they served until 2012. The thirst for more biblical knowledge caused Danette to return to school to gain a Master of Divinity degree in 2016. She has served as an Associate Pastor for 9 years, both in Indiana and Salem, Oregon.

Danette is a person who enjoys leading Bible studies, running Vacation Bible School, creating fun outreach events and taking care of details! She can be shy with people she doesn't know, but tries to be outgoing.. She enjoys zip-lining and exploring new places. She knows she isn't perfect but is striving to become more like Jesus every day—and wants to encourage others to love and become more like Jesus as well.

Marva Adams lives in Hillsboro with her husband Rick. Their three married children have given her nine grandchildren who are the joy of her life. As of right now they all live close and are so fortunate to be able to spend lots of time together.

Marva has used her musical talents to lead worship at Aloha Church of God for over 25 years and still counts it an immense pleasure to serve. In addition to leading at church she has lead worship for many retreats and CWC Connections.

Marva recently retired from years in banking and is really enjoying traveling, playing with Grandkids, and looking forward to picking back up some of her hobbies now that she hopefully will have more free time. Marva also loves bicycling, going to baseball games, going to the beach, and spending time with family and friends.
